

Concert in the Park of Culture
--Vinnitsa, 1939

Under fruit trees Ukrainians dance. Spring breaks hearts; music wracks the cold harmony of nature.

Underfoot, deep underfoot, absent loves molder. Bullet wounds worm peasants, farmers, soldiers: exiles who never left home.

At the Sunday concert in the Park of Culture daughters eat fruit sweetened by fathers and brothers; wives dance on their husbands' bones.